Boston, July 11, 1899.

My dear Miss Whitney.

Your kind words are helpful. I am sure we are making headway, and the fresh "flop" of the Herald is significant. It is a pity that the Transcript cannot resume its place in the van. -

It would be delightful to see you on your mountain aces, from which heaven forbid that you may be shaken by any taxes! - If I ever accomplish the happy conjunction suggested, I shall try to show you that your tenure will be strengthened rather than weakened) in the days of single-tax justice.

We shall multiply ample estates and decrease them. - Yet I like the flat justicia tone of your conclusion, in case my savior should turn out to be your father -

We go to Laffray this week with my comatose cent daughter Agnes, after an eight weeks' struggle with meningitis, trained nurses & doctors. - Our destination is the Ark, directly under Menadnock -

Frank & his family are very happy at Lexington, near to my son & grand children.
Hoping that your own summer may be restful & with kind regards to Miss Manning,

Very sincerely Yours,

Frank L. Garrison -

Mrs. Garrison thanks you for her inclusion in the summer hospitality which, also, seems to be beyond our horizon.

W. L. Garrison Jr.

Miss Anne Whitney,
144 Charlesgate,
Boston.
